Notice of Hrg	Status Report filed 01/07/2016 states the estate cannot be distributed and closed at this time because the estate does not have sufficient cash and it is the wish of all heirs to sell the property before distributing the estate. It is still the desire of the Petitioner and both of the heirs to sell the real property before distributing the estate, one-third of which will be distributed to the decedent's husband's estate filed under case no. 14CEPR00594. The heirs do not wish to co-own real property. Petitioner has been unable to sell the real property but has repeatedly reduced the price according to the advice of the realtor. Petitioner listed the real property for sale with a broker in March of 2015, for $428,795 and has reduced the price four times. On approximately January 4, 2016, the price was reduced to $305,000.00. Petitioner is optimistic that this price reduction will result in an offer. Finally, there is no cash in this estate or the Estate of Robert Stever, sufficient to pay reimbursement to Petitioner for his out-of-pocket expenses paid on behalf of both estates or statutory costs of administration, including the attorney's advanced costs. Petitioner has expended a substantial sum out of his personal funds to have a well drilled on real property in the Estate of Robert Stever for which there is no cash in the estate to reimburse him. The sale of this real property will enable petitioner to proceed with enough cash to pay costs of administration in both estates. Petitioner requests that the Court set another status hearing out at least 120 days.

Inventory	Status Report filed 01/07/2016 states the estate cannot be distributed and closed at this time because the estate is to receive distribution from the estate of the Decedent's predeceased spouse, Margaret Stever, which has been filed under case no. 14CEPR00593, heard concurrently with this Report. It is further the desire of the Petitioner and both of the heirs that the Dockery real property be sold during the Probate administration. The heirs do not wish to co-own real property. Based on the information and belief, the deed of trust issue raised in the prior status report filed in this matter will be resolved during escrow proceedings upon the sale of the Dockery property. Further, the existing well on the Dockery property went dry and it was necessary to dig a new well, which is now complete. The real property needs to be sold to pay the costs of the new well and the costs of administration. Petitioner requests that the Court set another status hearing out at least 120 days.

	Video Receipt	Petitioner states substantially all of the decedent's estate passes to Petitioner, who waives bond. Petitioner estimates that the tangible personal property items mentioned in the will passing to the decedent's sons, brothers, and grandchildren would have a market value of not more than $10,000.
	CI Report	The decedent also owned the outstanding stock of Bill Marvin Electric, Inc., a California corporation. Petitioner estimates that there is little to no value of the stock as the debts and obligations of the corporation are expected to exceed its assets.
	9202	The will does not leave his share of the Bill Marvin Electric, Inc., to Petitioner, and as it appears to fail to provide any disposition of the shares, it appears the shares would pass to Petitioner and the decedent's sons under intestate succession. All other assets other than the tangible personal property and shares of Bill Marvin Electric, Inc., are left to Petitioner.
